Institute of Audio Technology
Okhla, New Delhi

Sennheiser is excited to be associated & be a part of this great initiative taken by Mr. Vikrant Jain. We have always believed in giving back to our community & to support our community, especially during this pandemic time, what could be better than training, educating, upskilling, imparting relevant technical knowledge to the budding & aspiring Sound Engineers, Audio enthusiasts, professionals etc. This also goes perfectly in sync with our ongoing campaign #DontStopTheEducation which we had started in March'20 & since then have been continuously and periodically conducting a lot of Webinars, Workshops, Round Tables etc. both locally & globally and would continue to do so in coming future as well.

Further continuing in this mission of educating audio enthusiasts & professionals, Sennheiser hereby gives official confirmation to come on board with Institute of Audio Technology to provide comprehensive & holistic workshops on Radio Frequency, Wireless & Wired Microphones and In-Ear Monitors.

Mr. Suman Thakur – Head of Technical Service & Support, Sennheiser India would be conducting these workshops.

Sennheiser once again congratulates & appreciates this great initiative taken for the upliftment of our Industry & is delighted to be a part of it.

Thanks & Regards
